Creating Futures

SENIOR SCIENCE TECHNICIAN

Salary – Band D £27,803 to £34,834 FTE

Term time only plus inset days – 39 weeks

Full time – 37 hours per week - Permanent

The Trust Board of this highly successful, inclusive school invite applications for the post of Senior Science Technician.

We are looking for an enthusiastic Senior Science Technician to join us. Our Science department offers all three sciences (Biology, Chemistry and Physics) from Year 7 to Year 13. The successful applicant will work closely with teachers and the two other science technicians within the department, providing vital support in the provision of high-quality science teaching, from looking after laboratory equipment to helping pupils achieve their potential.

The challenges of education are ever shifting, however, we stand firm in our philosophical and cultural approach and this role is central to our continued delivery. We are not interested in convenient short-termism or superficial tweaks that bend to fashion; our belief is in sustainable daily excellence.

All our non-teaching staff are vital in our continued quest for improvement. This role is essential to the continued delivery of our vision and will help ensure our staff and pupils continue to thrive at our school and access the futures they deserve.

Heart of England School is committed to keeping children, young people and vulnerable adults safe. The post holder is responsible for promoting and supporting a culture of vigilance with regard to safeguarding the welfare of the children, young people and vulnerable adults for whom she/he is responsible or come into contact with.
